

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SALE

Vendors must agree to offer lots under the following conditions and regulations.

- 1. VENDORS: must be financial AWA full members (fully paid) and all live Lots, joining sires, donor dams and donor sires must be AWA registered prior to submission for entry into the Sale. No vendor may have more than two (2) entries in any single Sale Category or more than six (6) entries in total.
- 2. Wagyu Breeding Values: On the 24th of November 2025, the AWA announced that it will release Wagyu Breeding Values (WBV's) in early 2026, this release will coincide with EWS cataloguing. As such, animals will be nominated on the current EBVs and will be accepted on WBVs. While there is an extremely high correlation between WBVs and EBVs, vendors will be given the opportunity to substitute a lot after acceptance if the WBVs are different to the EBVs. The EWS catalogue will be published with only WBV's, therefore the regulations refer to WBVs where necessary, rather than EBVs. WBVs will be published in the catalogues and mid-parent WBV figures for embryos. The catalogue will carry WBV figures generated by the most recent run prior to publishing. More up to date data can be found in the online catalogue at wagyu.org.au.
- 3. ALL LOTS: to be Wagyu Fullblood 100% but 'special interest' Lots may be accepted. 'Special interest' may include poll, purebred Wagyu, or rare genetics – see clauses 3 and 6 for more detail.

Although only the highest ranking lots will be selected, the minimum WBV Requirements for all lots are:

- Must have WBVs in the Top 5% in each trait category (carcase, growth (not mature cow weight) and maternal).
- Or an AWA Breed $Index value in the Top 1% with preference given for animals with no traits below breed average except for sires qualifying on the F1 Terminal of Fullblood Terminal $Indexes.

In addition, Live Lots must meet the following criteria:

- Minimum body condition score 3 – as assessed by veterinarian or qualified inspector
- Must have a genomics test completed and recorded with the AWA
- Average WBV accuracy of 60% or greater for heifers and young bulls with one (1) progeny or less
- Average WBV accuracy of 70% or greater for sires and cows (more than one (1) calf)

Semen Lots and the sire and dam of the embryo lots must meet the following criteria:

- Must have a genomics test completed and recorded with the AWA
